The Morningstar[®] Emerging Markets Factor Tilt IndexSM measures the performance of emerging market equities with increased exposure toward small-capitalization and value stocks. Stocks that are deemed to be small-capitalization or value will have an overweighting compared to their weight in a corresponding market capitalization-weighted index. Likewise, stocks designated as "large" or "growth" stocks will have an underweighting compared to a standard market-capitalization weighting. The Morningstar index methodology defines "Emerging Markets" as those stocks that form the top 97% of the market capitalization of the stocks eligible to be included in Morningstar's investable universe and currently includes 23 countries. All stocks are then designated as "core", "growth" or "value" based on factors such as price-to-book ratios and price-to-earnings ratios, and are modified free float market-capitalization weighted.
